1 Foreword

CB/T 8533-2017 was issued by Ministry of Industry and Information Technology of the People's Republic of China on 12 April 2017 and has been in force since 1 October 2017.

The CB/T prefix marks a recommended standard. It is not law in itself: it becomes binding when a contract names it, when a regulation or a mandatory standard refers to it, or when a producer declares conformity with it.

The document runs to 20 pages in English translation.

This standard stipulates the medium water source suitable for water reuse in shipyards, the water reuse route and water quality control indicators of shipyards, and the water reuse system adopted according to different reuse routes, which is suitable for the treatment process of water reuse in shipyards. The process specifies the design parameters of the associated treatment structure and the corresponding safety measures and monitoring controls. This standard is applicable to the design of water reuse engineering for new construction, reconstruction and expansion of shipbuilding, ship repair and offshore engineering equipment manufacturing enterprises. Wastewater recycling engineering design similar to the machining industry can be implemented with reference to this standard.

CB/T 8533-2017 is filed under Chinese Standard Classification P83, in the field of engineering construction.

This catalogue holds 695 other CB/T standards without an ICS number.

In this catalogue, CB/T standards carry edition years from 1991 to 2025.
