1 Scope

GB/T 16273.8-2010 is the Chinese national standard on graphical symbols for use on equipment - part 8: common symbols for office equipment, in the field of generalities, terminology and documentation. The /T suffix marks it as a recommended standard: it is not compulsory by itself, but it becomes binding as soon as a contract, a tender or a customer specification calls it up - which in practice is how most foreign buyers meet it. It was issued on 10 January 2011 by the General Administration of Quality Supervision, Inspection and Quarantine of the People's Republic of China; Standardization Administration of China, and has been in force since 1 May 2011. Classification: ICS 01.080.20, CCS A22. This page is published from the official record of the standard held by the Chinese standards administration: the identification, the dates, the classification and the issuing body are taken from there. The clause text, the tables and the numeric limits are in the document itself, which is delivered complete in English translation.

This section provides for a variety of office equipment on the general graphical symbols. This section applies to computers, printers, copiers, telephones and other office equipment for office equipment operation controller, indicators and connections Socket, indicating the characteristics of office equipment, operating instructions, functional status and so on. Also applies to documents related to office equipment, such as instructions for use Books and so on.
