Foreword

This document complies with the provisions of GB/T 1.1-2020 "Standardization Work Guidelines Part 1: Structure and Drafting Rules of Standardization Documents".

Drafting.

GB/T 20002 "Guidelines for Writing Specific Content in Standards" and GB/T 1 "Standardization Work Guidelines", GB/T 20000 "Standardization Work Guidelines" the drafting rules are GB/T 20001 "Rules for Drafting Standards", GB/T 20003 "Special Procedures for Standard Development", and GB/T 20004 "Group Standards".

Together with these, they constitute the fundamental national standard system supporting standardization work.

This document is Part 1 of GB/T 20002. GB/T 20002 has published the following parts. 1)

1) The main element of the document title of GB/T 20002 has been changed from "Drafting Specific Content in the Standard" to "Guidelines for Writing Specific Content in the Standard".

The names listed in Parts 2 through 4 are those that have been published so far and will be adjusted as they are revised.

---Guidelines for drafting specific content in the standard, Part 1: Child safety;

---Drafting of specific content in the standard, Part 2: Needs of the elderly and disabled;

---Drafting of specific content in the standard, Part 3: Environmental content in product standards;

---Drafting of Specific Content in the Standard, Part 4: Safety-Related Content in the Standard;

---Guidelines for writing specific content in the standard, Part 5: Content related to sustainability;

---Guidelines for drafting specific content in the standard, Part 6: Addressing the needs of small and medium-sized enterprises.

This document replaces GB/T 20002.1-2008 "Drafting of Specific Content in Standards - Part 1: Child Safety", and is consistent with GB/T 20002.1-Compared to 2008, aside from structural adjustments and editorial changes, the main technical changes are as follows.

a) Definitions for the terms "caregiver," "product," "safety," and "acceptable risk" have been added (see 3.1, 3.5, 3.7, and 3.8);

b) Added guidance, suggestions, and related information on "Age Representation," "The 'Hidden' Nature of Children," and "The Needs of Children with Disabilities" (see 4.2, 4.5). and 4.6);

c) Added information on exploratory behavior in the "Child Development and Behavior" section (see 5.1.6);

d) Added relevant information on "Using knowledge of child development to prevent injuries," "Comparison of actual age and developmental age," and "14 years and older." Information, guidance, and specific recommendations (see 5.2, 5.3, and 5.4);

e) Added specific recommendations for the "sleep environment" (see 6.4);

f) The classification of hazard types has been changed (see Chapter 7, Chapter 5 in the 2008 edition), adding hazard types such as asphyxiation, strangulation, and electromagnetic radiation.

The document addresses risks, providing relevant information and countermeasures (see sections 7.5, 7.6, and 7.12.4), and adds information on ionizing radiation and high-intensity light.

Countermeasures for risks such as clustered light (see 7.12.1, 7.12.3);

g) A new chapter on "Adequacy of Protective Measures" has been added (see Chapter 8);

h) A new chapter, "Checklist for Considering Child Safety When Drafting Standardized Documents," has been added (see Chapter 9).

This document is modified to adopt ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014 "Guidance on standardization documents concerning child safety". Document type.

The guidelines from ISO/IEC have been adjusted to Chinese national standards.

This document has undergone the following structural adjustments compared to ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014.

---The second paragraph of Chapter 1 corresponds to the fifth paragraph of section 4.6 in ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014;

---Chapter 9 corresponds to Appendix A in ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014;

Appendix B has been deleted.

The technical differences between this document and ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014, and the reasons therefor, are as follows.

---The clause "4.3 d) The likelihood of injury is related to the child's physical characteristics and behavior" in ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014 has been deleted.

4.3 b) Duplicate content;

---The phrase "ensuring legislation imposes strict limits on radiation exposure to children for medical and other purposes" has been removed (see ISO/IEC guidelines).

(ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014, 7.12.1) "Prohibit children from using sunbeds through legislation" (see ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014) 7.12.2) does not fall under the scope of standardization documents;

---Change "Sun Protection Factor (SPF)" to "Ultraviolet Protection Factor (UPF)" (see 7.12.2, ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014).

7.12.2), in conjunction with the situation of my country's industry;

---The following has been removed. "Some countries ban the sale of fireworks to the public (with few exceptions) and require that only licensed adults be allowed to enter." Fireworks displays (see ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014, 7.15) should be adapted to my country's national conditions;

---Appendix A, the "Assessment Checklist," has been changed from informative content to normative content within the main text, making it more instructive and practical (see section [number missing]).

Chapter 9, Appendix A of ISO/IEC Guide 50.2014.

The following editorial changes have been made to this document.

---To align with existing standards, the document title has been changed to "Guidelines for Writing Specific Content in Standards, Part 1: Content Involving Children".
