What this standard covers

This Standard specifies a simple linear constant stress for life testing and accelerated life testing unbiased estimation procedures and methods. It is suitable for electronic components (hereinafter referred to as the product) of Weibull distribution, the shape parameter $m > 0$, the characteristic life $\eta > 0$, the location parameter $\gamma = 0$, the number of samples in each group tried to vote for $n >$ set number 25 Censored and accelerated life test data processing life testing.
