Foreword

This document conforms to GB/T 1.1-2020 "Standardization Work Guidelines Part 1: Structure and Drafting Rules of Standardization Documents".

Drafting is scheduled.

This document is modified to adopt ISO 25554:2024, "Guidelines for promoting community well-being in aging societies".

This document has undergone the following structural adjustments compared to ISO 25554:2024.

--Appendix B corresponds to Annex C of ISO 25554:2024;

--Appendix C corresponds to Appendix D of ISO 25554:2024.

The following editorial changes have been made to this document.

--Changed ISO 31700-1 and ISO 22458 in section 5.4 to GB/T 45703 and GB/T 46306;

--Some columns in Appendix A have been changed to paragraphs;

--The position of Figure C.1 has been changed.

This document was proposed and is under the jurisdiction of the National Technical Committee on Service Standardization (SAC/TC 264).

Introduction

This document establishes a framework for promoting community well-being and provides corresponding guidelines. This framework is applicable to all types of communities, not just the entire community.

The community also focuses on each individual within it.

Communities are diverse, and it is important for different communities to share methods and best practices for promoting well-being. Practices from various communities are also valuable.

Case studies can help to implement this framework.

The target audience for community well-being promotion is all members of the community. The methods proposed in this document help improve the well-being of the target population and...

The well-being of the entire community.

Guidelines for Promoting Community Well-being in an Aging Society

1 Scope

This document provides guidance on establishing, implementing, evaluating, and continuously improving community well-being.

This document applies to communities of different sizes, categories, and natures.

This document does not cover community occupational safety and health management, economic and financial aspects.
