Introduction

One means of determining whether to establish an EOMS that aligns with its management policy.

The requirements for EOMS are diverse and extensive. This document primarily provides guidance for EOMS certification according to ISO 21001.

It can also be used for other EOMS certifications.

This document provides general guidelines for organizations engaged in EOMS auditing and certification (i.e., certification bodies), and welcomes participation in EOMS certification activities.

This document is also applicable to other organizations using this document. Furthermore, this document also applies to other certifications accepted by educational organizations, such as ISO /IEC 17021 certification.

Certificates, ISO /IEC 17024 certification, ISO /IEC 17065 certification, or a combination of the above certifications.

The certification process includes an audit of the educational organization's EOMS (Educational Organization Management System). The certification certificate or supporting documentation demonstrates that the educational organization's EOMS complies with specific requirements.

Certificates required by EOMS standards (such as ISO 21001) or other regulations.

Accredited educational organizations must have an EOMS (compliant with ISO 21001 or other management systems) and determine their own certification requirements.

Composition and arrangement of EOMS - except where otherwise specified in relevant laws and regulations.

The degree of integration between management systems varies greatly among different educational organizations. Therefore, when using this document, it is necessary to consider the client's perspective.

The organizational culture and actual needs of users are considered to ensure the applicability of the established EOMS.
