What this standard covers

This standard specifies the principle, instrumentation, samples, measurement steps and test data processing of the crushing force determination of chemical catalyst particles. This standard is applicable to the determination of the radial crushing force of granular chemical catalysts in strip, ring, plum blossom, cylindrical, clover, four-leaf clover, honeycomb coal and other shapes, and the point crushing force of spherical granular chemical catalysts.

Document data

International classification (ICS): 71.100.99.

Chinese classification (CCS): G74.

Estimated length of the Chinese original: 6,682 words.
