

ICS 11.020
CCS C 62

SN

INDUSTRY STANDARD OF THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA

SN/T 1494-2010

Replacing SN/T 1494-2004

Codes of surveillance for influenza at frontier port

国境口岸流行性感冒监测规程

(English Translation)

Issued on: March 2, 2010

Implemented on: September 16, 2010

Issued by: General Administration of Customs

Table of Contents

- Foreword
- 1 Scope
- 2 Normative references
- 3 Terms and Definitions
- 4 Requirements
- 5 OBJECT
- 6 Content and Method
- 6.1 Information Collection

Foreword

Instead of the standard SN/T 1494-2004 "frontier ports influenza monitoring procedures." this standard compared with SN/T 1494-2004 The main changes are as follows.

- The outbreaks have been reported as a separate chapter (Chapter 7 of this edition);
- Increased occupational exposure personal protection content (Chapter 9 of this edition);
- According to "International Health Regulations (2005)", the Ministry of Health, the State Administration of Quality Supervision, Inspection and Quarantine issued by standards and normative documents Feedback after assessment of the original standard change, supplement.

The Standard Appendix A, Appendix B, Appendix C are normative appendix.

This standard is proposed and managed by the National Certification and Accreditation Administration Committee.

This standard by the People's Republic of China Guangdong CIQ is responsible for drafting.

1 Scope

This standard specifies the border crossings influenza monitoring requirements, scope, target, content and methods, disease reporting, personal protection, results Determination and disposal.

This standard applies to border crossings crowd influenza surveillance.

2 Normative references

The following documents contain provisions which, through reference in this standard and become the standard terms. For dated references, subsequent Amendments (not including errata content) or revisions do not apply to this standard, however, encourage the parties to the agreement are based on research Whether the latest versions of these documents. For undated reference documents, the latest versions apply to this standard.

GB 15994-1995 influenza diagnostic criteria and principles SN/T 1754-2006 ports of entry of avian influenza diagnostic criteria and monitoring procedures

3 Terms and Definitions

The following terms and definitions apply to this standard 3.1 Caused by influenza viruses in acute respiratory infections.

4 Requirements

4.1

by the disease surveillance with professional knowledge and skills of staff of the Monitoring Group, establish a monitoring system.

4.2

According to the design characteristics of the influenza surveillance program, a clear monitoring purposes, unified monitoring methods and proper personal protection.

4.3

Monitoring data should be accurate and complete, timely collection, unified management.

4.4

pairs of the monitoring program, the monitoring process, the results of the monitoring, prevention and control measures effect evaluation and lessons learned.

4.5

Influenza Surveillance should be combined with entry - exit health and quarantine inspection staff working health reporting system, temperature detection systems, medical inspection system Degree, patient-controlled system, the ventilation system disinfection, epidemic information reporting system, self-protection systems and health education system.

5 OBJECT

5.1

immigration officers.

5.2

frontier port staff.

5.3

practitioners provide services to transportation and border entry and exit ports (hereinafter referred to as employees).

6.1 Information Collection

The main sources of information on the epidemic.

"National epidemic Report" --- Ministry of Health and the CDC released;