1 Foreword

YD/T 4862-2024 was issued by Ministry of Industry and Information Technology on 5 July 2024 and has been in force since 1 October 2024.

The YD/T prefix marks a recommended standard. It is not law in itself: it becomes binding when a contract names it, when a regulation or a mandatory standard refers to it, or when a producer declares conformity with it.

The document runs to 15 pages in English translation.

2 Scope Preview

This standard specifies the terms, definitions, and abbreviations of optoelectronic hybrid optical components (WDM/TAP-PD) with wavelength selection or optical monitoring functions, specifies the technical requirements for their optoelectronic characteristics, appearance, and environmental compliance, specifies the corresponding test methods, and specifies the inspection rules, marking, packaging, transportation, and storage. This standard applies to the design, development, production and inspection of single-mode WDM/TAP-PD optoelectronic hybrid optical components. It can also be used as a reference for multi-mode TAP-PD optoelectronic hybrid optical components and other types of optical monitoring products.

YD/T 4862-2024 falls under ICS 33.180.01, in the field of telecommunications.

This catalogue holds 3,420 other YD/T standards in that field.
