2 Scope Preview

This standard specifies the energy saving parameters and test methods of the conference TV terminal equipment in various working conditions. This standard is applicable to conference television terminals (including all-in-one conference TV terminals and split-type conference TV terminals) based on IP, El/T1, ISDN, V.35 and other networks. A conference TV based on a software conferencing TV kit type does not apply to this standard. Other types of conference TV terminal equipment can refer to the implementation.

YDB 142.1-2013 falls under ICS 33.160.60, in the field of telecommunications.
